INTRODUCTION

Governor Sam Brownback and Attorney General Derek Schmidt invite you to attend the 14th Annual Crime Victims' Rights Conference. You will hear from inspirational keynote speakers and trainers that will provide new and innovative ways to assist crime victims and survivors.

The conference theme is "Reshaping the Future, Honoring the Past." This year's theme mirrors the National Crime Victims' Rights Week theme, which is April 10 through April 16, 2011. The theme helps remind us to pay tribute to the countless number of victims and survivors who found the strength to move forward with their lives after horrendous tragedies. They have taught us how to establish comprehensive services. We also need to take time to recognize and honor the countless professionals and volunteers who stand ready to help, offer support and provide guidance to crime victims.

Governor Brownback and Attorney General Schmidt look forward to seeing you at the conference and thank you for your commitment and dedication in helping crime victims and survivors in Kansas.

This project is supported by Award No. 2010-VA-GX-0068 awarded by the Federal Office for Victims of Crime, Office of Justice Programs, U. S. "Vicarious Trauma: How to Reconcile its Impact"

*Laura van Dernoot Lipsky, MSW
Seattle, WA*

Laura van Dernoot Lipsky, MSW, is an internationally known trauma worker who has been engaged in this work for 24 years. She has worked locally, nationally and internationally. Her work has included front-line work with homelessness, domestic violence, sexual assault, child abuse, the sex trade, natural disasters, environmental destruction and other acute trauma. She is known as a pioneer in the field of trauma exposure and its toll on those working in trauma related fields. For more than a decade she has been constantly sought after to speak on her theory of trauma stewardship, which explores how humans are impacted by exposure to the suffering, hardship, crisis and trauma of humans, other living beings and the planet itself. Laura is the author of the book Trauma Stewardship, An Everyday Guide to Caring for Self While Caring for Others. Additionally, she is the founder and director of a Spanish language preschool and grade school enrichment program guided by a social justice and environmental stewardship curriculum.

Ms. van Dernoot Lipsky explores how we are impacted by society, work and career. Through this larger backdrop, we come to understand the shifts that occur in us personally and professionally and why we adapt the way we do. She focuses on how to reconcile what we experience in our work and the world around us in a way that is compassionate, honest, accountable and sustainable. Whether one may be experiencing burnout, fatigue, cynicism, guilt, or any other number of consequences of demanding work, we come to understand how to make choices that will allow us to interact with our work and our lives and remain true to ourselves and those we serve.

CLOSING REMARKS

GENERAL SESSIONS

“From Adversity to Advocacy, the Little Moments Matter”

Yvette Rodier, JD, Staff Attorney, Utah Crime Victims Legal Clinic, Salt Lake City, Utah

Yvette Rodier Evans has committed her professional life to supporting crime victims and their rights. A native of Salt Lake City, Yvette received her Bachelor of Arts in Communication from the University of Utah. Inspired by former U.S. District Court Judge Paul Cassell for enforcing crime victims' rights, Yvette attended S.J. Quinney College of Law at the University of Utah. Rodier currently serves on the Utah Council for Victims of Crime and works as a victim advocate with the Utah Crime Victims Legal Clinic.

When a random act of violence took Yvette's best friend, Zach Snarr, and left Yvette wounded, she began the difficult journey through the criminal justice system. It was a journey for which she, like most crime victims, was not prepared. As a beneficiary of rights afforded to crime victims, Yvette will share her story and describe the moments that made the difference and created who she is today.

“A Balm in Gilead? When Faith and Domestic Violence Intersect”

Rev. Dr. Marie M. Fortune, Founder and Senior Analyst, FaithTrust Institute, Seattle, Washington

Rev. Dr. Marie M. Fortune grew up in North Carolina where she received her undergraduate degree from Duke University. She received her seminary training at Yale Divinity School and was ordained a minister in the United Church of Christ in 1976. After serving in a local parish, she founded the Center for the Prevention of Sexual and Domestic Violence, now known as FaithTrust Institute. Today FaithTrust Institute is a multifaith, multicultural organization in the U.S. providing religious communities and advocates with training, consultation and educational materials to address the faith aspects of abuse. Dr. Fortune is a pastor, educator, theologian, ethicist and author of numerous books. She has served on the National Advisory Committee for the Office on Violence Against Women and on the Defense Task Force on Domestic Violence in the U.S. Department of Defense.

Faith is fundamental to ending domestic violence across faith, cultural and ethnic groups. How can faith and faith communities be a roadblock to ending the violence? And how can they also be a resource?

“The Importance of a Self-Defense Assessment”

Major Marcus Bruning, Supervising Deputy Sheriff, St. Louis County Sheriff's Office, Duluth, Minnesota

Marcus Bruning has been a member of the St. Louis County Sheriff's Office for 17 years. He was involved in developing the country's model policy for a rural agency response to domestic violence through a U.S. Department of Justice Grant. Major Bruning is known nationally as an expert on domestic violence. In addition, he teaches certified police officer training courses in several states across the country focusing on advanced investigative techniques for domestic violence and sexual assault intervention. Major Bruning received his Masters of Education Degree from the University of Minnesota, Duluth and is a member of American Mensa.

This session takes a look at the history, evolution and vision of the law enforcement response to battering intervention and explores innovative ways to incorporate sound self-defense assessment practices into the business practices of today's law enforcement officer. What are the challenges? What is the impact? How do we instill confidence? This presentation explores some tools that work well within the criminal justice system and the world of the 21st century police officer.

GENERAL SESSIONS

“Defeating Human Trafficking: An Agent’s and Survivor’s Perspectives”

Jeff Lanza, Retired FBI Agent, Communication Dynamics, Mission, Kansas; Timea Nagy, Author, Program Director, Walk With Me, Toronto, Ontario Canada

Mr. Lanza was an FBI Special Agent for more than 20 years. He investigated corruption, fraud, organized crime, cyber crime, human trafficking and terrorism. He has appeared on the Today Show, Good Morning America, Dateline and Larry King Live, among others. Ms. Nagy is a survivor of human trafficking, speaker and social advocate from Toronto, Canada. She was kidnapped, controlled and kept under horrible conditions and forced to work in the sex trade in Toronto and surrounding areas. She is the founder of Walk With Me, an independent organization helping human trafficked victims in Ontario.

Retired FBI Agent Jeff Lanza will describe the state of human trafficking and how we can overcome the challenges facing law enforcement and social service agencies in mitigating the problem. Timea Nagy will share the story of her difficult journey into the underbelly of the sex slavery trade and the personal healing that followed. She hopes to inspire others to rise above victimization and lead joyful and purposeful lives in spite of difficult circumstances.

“Laughing: Just for the Health of It”

Karen Vadino, MSW, LPCC, OCPS II, Motivational Speaker, Humorist, Consultant, Youngstown, Ohio

In Karen Vadino’s 30-plus years as a human service professional, most of her experience has been in the field of chemical dependency, both as a licensed clinician and as a certified prevention specialist. She also has been a part-time instructor in Social Work, Sociology, Juvenile Justice and Human Development at Youngstown State University, Penn State University and Westminster College. For the past 15 years she has been a nationally recognized speaker and trainer. She has been described as “one of those people who can make you laugh and cry in the same moment.”

Humor and laughter are essential ingredients for healthy bodies and healthy relationships. Understanding and accepting ourselves can provide a bridge to connecting with others. Laughter and humor impact our lives in many ways. We will explore that impact and provide opportunities to examine our own sense of humor. We will establish strategies for adding more humor into our lives.

• his individualistic concerns to the broader concerns of all humanity.”
